M'NARY-HAUGEN LAW ON WAY TO PASSAGE

To Be Placed Before President Within Two Weeks For Signature Farm Leaders Say.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The $250,000,000 McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was well on its way today to enactment by the present congress with prospects of its being tossed onto the White House steps within two weeks for the signature of President Coolidge.

This was the program of farm bloc leaders, who mustered a 66 to 14 majority yesterday in getting it up for consideration in the senate. The Westerners declared they expected the president would sign the new bill as it contains several changes from the form which the president vetoed a year ago.

With a final vote anticipated in the senate by next Wednesday, the bill will be hurried then to the house, where farm bloc leaders predict its passage by a margin of fifty votes. The bill, unless the house changes the senate form, will then go to the president for his approval or rejection.

Senate leaders announced they would bring no filibustering against the bill and that they were ready to invoke cloture to shut off debate if dilatory tactics were adopted by the opposition. A cloture petition, already circulated, they said, was signed by fifty-five senators and would carry sixty signatures by tonight. This number would be more than enough to insure the adoption of a "razz rule" if cloture were found a necessary expedient.

In the house, the farm bloc leaders announced they would call up the farm bill either Tuesday or by Thursday at the latest. Its passage by the house, it was said, will be postponed until after the senate has enacted the bill in order to avoid, if possible, any additional delay by being forced to send two conflicting measures to conference. Both Rep. Haugen, (R), of Iowa, author, and Rep. Dickinson (R), of Iowa, leader of the house bloc, predicted enactment of the bill.

A similar optimism marked the attitude of senate leaders, despite the opposition of New England and other administration senators. "We have enough votes to pass this farm bill any time," said Senator Gooding (R) of Idaho. "We've been discussing this measure for five years and this time we are going to enact it."

In its present form, the measure creates a $250,000,000 revolving fund to finance co-operative marketing associations in storing and exporting surplus crops in wheat, corn, rice, cotton and hogs. Its provision may be extended to include tobacco. Amendments, making this addition, will be presented in both house and senate and the bloc leaders have agreed to accept them. An equalization fee, collected from the crops as they are marketed, would be imposed only by a majority vote of each association, which accepted loans from the government.

PASSENGERS ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURY IN FLYER WRECK

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 4.—A broken arm was the worst injury today in the wreck of the Detroit to Chicago flyer of the Wabash railroad, in which two Pullman cars left the rails and overturned, throwing passengers into panic. The wreck occurred three miles east of Wyatt, Indiana.

William Wham, 45, a brakeman, suffered the broken arm and when Dr. L. A. Kuhn of Wyatt treated all the cars and broke the bones of Wham was the only one injured sufficiently to be sent to a hospital.

When more than 100 scantily clad passengers discovered they were not seriously hurt they remained shivering on the tracks while the cars began to break in to the cars to secure the clothing. The two cars were on the rear of the train when they left the track three miles east of Wyatt. The train was due in Chicago, ninety miles distant, at seven o'clock and arrangements were immediately made to rush the passengers to their destination.

A broken rail was declared by railway officials to have caused the wreck.

WARDEN THOMAS TO SEEK PRISON RELIEF

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 4.—Overcrowded conditions at the Ohio penitentiary today prompted Warden P. E. Thomas to seek authority to refuse admittance to additional prisoners. After an interview with attaches of the state attorney general's office, Thomas left to make formal application for an opinion. The penitentiary now houses 3,211 prisoners with a maximum capacity of 3,200.

LISBON GOVERNMENT DEMANDED TO LEAVE; TROOPS DISPATCHED

Government Assured Of Loyalty Of Army
And Navy, Said

LISBON, Feb. 4.—With all Portugal under martial law and with bodies of loyal troops converging on Oporto from several points, the Portuguese government today was taking vigorous steps to bring a prompt end to the revolution which flared up in Oporto yesterday. Some fighting and several casualties were reported in Oporto. The war office announced that a committee at the head of the revolting section of the revolution, which is adjacent to the revolution, was at Oporto telegraphed the Lisbon government demanding that it resign and return the country to a constitutional administration. The government replied to the demand by dispatching bodies of loyal troops to suppress the revolutionary movement.

The government announced that it was assured of the loyalty of both the army and navy. President Carmona, who also holds the portfolio of war minister has arrived at Aviro, where a strong contingent of government troops is being concentrated for a march upon Oporto. They will be joined by other loyal forces stationed at Sero de Pilar fortress, which is adjacent to Oporto. Colonel Amaral with detachments of loyal troops from the garrisons at Vianna Do Castelo, Valencia and Braga, is also marching toward Oporto.

LISBON, Feb. 4.—The Portuguese revolutionists at Oporto surrendered to the government troops and, thus bringing the revolt to a close within twenty-four hours of its inception. The government troops encircled Oporto and the rebels then surrendered, according to the advices received here.

FILIBUSTER FACES LEGISLATION WITH RADIO RULE BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Failure of the Dil-White radio bill to assert absolute government ownership of the air brought radio legislation to a serious impasse in the senate today face to face with a threatened filibuster.

Senator Howell (R) of Nebraska, led a stiff fight against the measure, claiming that unless it divested broadcasters of every vestige of ownership rights, he declared, broadcasters could bring suit to force the commission to renew their licenses on the grounds of priority rights.

Howell advocated retention of the language in the existing "makeshift" law, which declares the ether to belong wholly to the United States. He opposed repeal of this law, which was enacted only as a temporary measure late last session, and declared the conference on the present bill had no right to provide for repeal of this law "when it hadn't even been passed when the house and senate acted on the bill they had in conference." A decision by the chair, however, overruled this objection.

FIVE PERSONS DEAD WHEN AUTO WRECKED

KENSINGTON, Md., Feb. 4.—Five persons, four of them members of the same family, were instantly killed here early today when a St. Louis-bound B. & O. train struck an automobile at a grade crossing.

The dead: W. A. Twombly, Mrs. Elizabeth Twombly, Paul Twombly, and Grafton Holland.

REPORTER CHARGES SLANDER IN SUIT AGAINST BROWNING

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Edward W. "Daddy" Browning, 52-year-old millionaire who is being sued for separation and alimony by his sixteen-year-old wife, Frances "Peaches" Browning, today marshalled his lawyers in an effort to prevent an inroad upon his fortune from another quarter.

Arthur Mefford, a reporter, filed a $250,000 slander action against Browning, declaring "Daddy" slandered him by saying he had kidnapped Mary Spas, a former ward of Browning. Mefford said he merely took the girl to the office of his newspaper where she was paid $500 for a story.

Browning was technically under arrest for two hours in his office while his attorneys were arranging to post a $10,000 bond for his appearance in supreme court.

Police reserves were called to disperse crowds which gathered in front of Browning's office when a rumor spread that the millionaire would be forced to spend a night in jail.

FERDINAND HOPES TO HAVE CAROL BACK IN COUNTRY, SAID

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—King Ferdinand of Roumania has expressed a desire to have former Crown Prince Carol return to Roumania, and has dispatched Minister of the Interior Octavian Goga on a special mission to Paris to confer with Prince Carol, according to a report from Bucharest reaching Berlin via Budapest today.

The report is to the effect that the Roumanian peasant party has served a manifesto on Queen Marie which is tantamount to a demand that Prince Carol be recalled to Roumania and his renunciation of the throne rescinded. It is expected Goga will attempt to arrange with Prince Carol for a meeting with his father, and that King Ferdinand will negotiate for a final separation of Prince Carol from his titian haired consort, Mme. Lupescu, as a condition to Carol's return to Roumania.

ELIMINATION OF GRADE CROSSINGS IN LEGISLATURE

Hundred Million Dollar
Bond Issue Proposed
By Solon

COLUMBUS, Feb. 4.—Proposals that approximately 2,000 railroad grade crossings throughout Ohio be eliminated and the expense met by means of a $100,000,000 bond issue by the state, that robberies and auto thefts be classified and that varying degrees of punishment be provided to fit the crime; that congress abolish the federal estate tax, and that state officials conspiring to defraud the state be imprisoned are pending in the Ohio legislature today.

Action on these new measures, however, will not be taken before next week, both the senate and house having recessed late Thursday until next Monday night.

Rep. R. W. Emmons, Columbiana County, introduced a joint resolution in the house proposing submission to Ohio voters next November of an amendment to the Ohio constitution, to become effective January 1, next, authorizing the state legislature to provide, by law, for the issuance of not to exceed $100,000,000 in bonds, proceeds from the sale of which would be used in eliminating, under state supervision, railroad crossings.

Of this expense, the state would bear 25 per cent and the railroads 50 per cent. If the crossing eliminated was inside a municipality, such municipality would pay the remaining 25 per cent of the cost, but if the crossing was outside of a municipality, the 25 per cent would be paid by the county.

Sen. Davis Johnson, Fulton County, introduced a bill decreeing that any state official who joined with any other person in a conspiracy to defraud the state or violate any of its laws, would be guilty of a felony and subject to imprisonment of from five to ten years in the penitentiary.

Rep. Gilbert Morgan, Cuyahoga County, offered a bill, memorializing congress to abolish the federal estate tax. Supporters of the resolution claimed the federal government should not invade the death tax field but should confine its taxation laws to the fields it now enters.

The present law, it was charged, "is for the purpose of forcing states to change their inheritance tax laws to comply with the laws which congress passed."

MUTINOUS ARMIES DEFEATED IN CHINA IN CAPITAL MARCH

Christian General Believed
Overthrown by Foe
In Advance

LONDON, Feb. 4.—General Wu Peifu, co-leader with Marshal Chang Tso-lin, of the Northern Chinese armies, today inflicted a heavy defeat on the mutinous northern generals, and is now preparing to march against the Cantonese capital at Hankow, according to a news dispatch from Peking. The dispatch did not state what mutinous general had been overthrown by Wu, but supposedly it was the "Christian" general Feng, personal and political foe of Wu. Peifu, whose army for months has occupied a position directly between Peking and Hankow, effectively preventing Wu Peifu and Chang Tso-lin sending an army southward against the Cantonese.

The reports of warfare in China received here are conflicting. From Shanghai sources come reports that General Chang Kai Shek, Cantonese leader is marching from Hankow in the direction of Shanghai, while General Sun Shuan Fang, defender of Shanghai, is receiving reinforcements and is repulsing the advance of the Cantonese.

All reports appear to point to a union of the northern forces, however, and there is considerable doubt here in well-informed circles that the Cantonese will make any serious attempt to actually occupy Shanghai.

ANDREWS FACES PROBLEM TO KEEP DRY EMPLOYE STAFF

Only Five Employees Now
Holding Original Jobs
After Shakeups

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Keeping a staff of efficient executives on the job of prohibition enforcement is one of the most difficult tasks faced by Gen. L. C. Andrews, dry chief, in his efforts to dry up the United States.

Out of twenty-five administrators and other executives appointed by Andrews in his great reorganization shakeup eighteen months ago, only five are holding their original jobs, it was learned at the treasury today. Two others were transferred and are still on the payroll as administrators.

Since the original administrators were selected, thirty new regional directors have been appointed only to subsequently resign, making a turnover of more than ninety per cent.

Andrews has experienced constant difficulty in getting the right kind of men for the key positions in the dry machine.

Enrique Gomez, vice-consul of Colombia, arrived in New York with a pet puma which, ignorant of New York's affairs of court, he had named "Peaches."

SIXTEEN ARRESTS MADE OVER COUNTY IN LIQUOR RAIDS

Sixteen arrests were made in the roundup of alleged violators of the prohibition law in Greene County Wednesday and Thursday, the outgrowth of evidence secretly gathered by an undercover prohibition agent employed by Prosecutor J. C. Marshall two weeks ago.

Seven additional arrests were made Thursday. Nine were made the preceding day. Ten persons were given preliminary arraignments in Probate Court Thursday. Fifteen of the sixteen alleged liquor law violators entered pleas of not guilty when arraigned before Probate Judge S. C. Wright. Hearing dates for all were set by the judge and a majority is at liberty under bond of $800 each.

William Pettiford, colored, Yellow Springs barber, was fined $100 and costs when he pleaded guilty to illegal sale of liquor and was remanded to the County Jail when he defaulted in payment.

Charges contained in the affidavits on file range from giving information to illegal sale and possession.

Those under arrest, the charges against them and date for their hearings follow:
E. W. Hamilton, Xenia, selling liquor, hearing February 16 at 9 a. m.; Ike Shaffer, Yellow Springs, selling liquor, hearing February 16 at 1 p. m.; Ollie Toole, Xenia, selling liquor, hearing February 17 at 9 a. m.; Mrs. Ruby Alexander, selling liquor, hearing February 17 at 1 p. m.; Walter Oster, Yellow Springs, giving information, hearing February 9 at 9 a. m.; "Cap" Stephens, Jamestown, selling liquor, hearing February 11 at 1 p. m.; Snowden McHenry, Xenia, giving information, hearing February 15 at 9 a. m.; Frank Woodson, Xenia, three charges of selling liquor, hearing February 15 at 1 p. m.; Mark Walker, colored, Xenia, selling liquor, hearing February 9 at 1 p. m.

Dan Myers, Bellbrook, illegal possession, hearing February 7 at 9 a. m.; Mrs. Dan Myers, selling liquor, hearing February 7 at 9 a. m.; Martin Welmer, Cedarville, two charges of giving information, hearing February 7 at 1 p. m.; Earl Robison, Cedarville, two charges of selling liquor, hearing February 8 at 9 a. m.; James Webster, Cedarville, selling liquor, hearing February 8 at 9 a. m.; Vernon Jones, Cedarville, selling liquor, hearing February 8 at 1 p. m.

Attorneys F. L. Johnson and F. W. Dunkle represent the accused in court.

SENATOR MARSHALL INTRODUCES BILL

State Senator L. T. Marshall, of Xenia, in a bill introduced in the Ohio senate Thursday, would permit bondsmen to pay fines of convicted persons to be released from the obligation upon producing such persons in court and proving they have not been reimbursed.

Senator Marshall also introduced a bill that would amend the mechanics lien law, more definitely fixing the time the lien becomes effective.

ADMINISTRATION SPEEDS PLANS FOR EMERGENCY WORK

Congress "Big Navy"
Bloc Begins Fight To Overcome Question

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Virtually abandoning its fight with the preparedness bloc in congress, the administration today speeded up plans to whip the army, navy and marine corps into shape for any emergency.

Approval by congress of supplemental budget estimates totalling $8,500,000, requested by President Coolidge within two days, will start recruiting for both the army and the marine corps. More than 5,000 men will be added to the nation's fighting force before July 1.

Taking advantage of the situation, the "big navy" bloc in congress renewed its fight to overcome the opposition of President Coolidge to the three-cruiser amendment to the naval supply bill. This remained as a sole subject of difference between the president and congress on the national defense.

The first sign of a change on the part of the administration came when the army supply bill was passed to provide for 115,000 men next year, despite the president's next message for an army of but 115,000. Virtually no opposition was offered by administration wheel-horses to the change.

Within two days the president has recommended that the army, now between 109,000 and 110,000 be brought to 115,000 men before July 1. Carrying out of this recommendation will speed the work of the army general staff in recruiting the enlisted strength to 118,750 in the next fiscal year.

The president's original budget recommendation for a cut of 1,200 in the marine corps was quietly rejected in the house, and in the new estimates sent to congress the president has requested that the marine corps be brought to 18,000 men at once.

The fight of the "big navy" bloc for the senate cruiser amendment, providing $1,200,000 with which to begin construction of three cruisers, was renewed today in a meeting of senate and house conference committees.

A deadlock was predicted, with the result that the question will be fought out again on the floor of congress, declaring that the matter has become a personal issue between the president and congress, administration leaders said there would be no compromise.

STATE DRY AGENT TO TESTIFY IN DAYTON DRY CASE

DAYTON, O., Feb. 4.—J. E. Watts, state dry agent, was to testify today at the resumption of the contempt hearing of C. D. Zellars, president of the Dayton Anti-Saloon League, in common pleas court here today.

Absence of Watts, a key witness in the case, necessitated postponement of the hearing after it was started Monday.

Zellars is accused of instigating a dry raid on the home of Victor R. Roehm, a juror who was serving in a civil case in which a negro woman was suing Watts for alleged injuries she claimed were inflicted upon her while Watts was conducting a raid upon her home.

It is charged that Zellars sought to intimidate the juror and influence the verdict in the damage suit by instigating the raid on Roehm's home.

Two mistrials have resulted from efforts to dispose of the damage suit, and a third trial is scheduled for the near future.

Watts was ordered to appear as a witness in the contempt case by B. F. McDonald, state dry commissioner.

Mrs. Edward F. Hartman, the mother, was found in a dazed condition in the lobby entrance of the Central Y. M. C. A. late yesterday afternoon, by a member into the building, where little Miss Hartman put in an appearance.

CURE CITY OF "BLUES"

THE MOODYS—MASTERSINGERS.

Exclusive Dispatch, Copyright 1927

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 4.—"The Moodys" have cured the social ills of San Diego. With old-fashioned "singing bees"—mass singing, tried and found of inestimable value to soldiers during the war—they have brought harmony to the soul of a city.

The value of congregational singing has been proved many times, but the idea had been shelved quite a while before Wallace Moody and Mrs. Moody dropped in on San Diego and made the city sing.

Here a system of community singing has grown up which involves an intensive study of crowd psychology by trained leaders and the working out of means to induce concentration in masses of persons attracted from the city and countryside by neat song-fests.

All the singing is not done in one place. The mass meetings are only part of San Diego's scheme for song. Neighborhoods boast groups which meet on occasion for song-fests. Every luncheon club in the city sings before and after meals—and the Moodys lead them. A little portable organ goes with them throughout the city and to outlying camps.

"It matters not whether embryo singers have voices like Melba or Caruso or croak like ravens," says Moody.

What Wallace and Salis—that's the way the city knows them—have done for San Diego, they say any town can do for itself. Jazz has little place in their scheme of things and at least one community in the United States likes substantial songs.

"San Diego, by adopting song as part of every program," says Moody, "probably has made greater progress than any other city in the world. Only three or four other communities in the United States have such a policy. "Since community singing has promoted the musical growth of the city in many ways, many women's groups have recognized it as an uplift factor."

The women prefer such songs as "The Star Spangled Banner," "America," "Smiles" and "Dixie." Many of the songs demanded by the crowds are hymns. So popular have they become that many gatherings will have nothing else.

The Moodys' singing system has no connection with the churches of the city, and instead of detracting from religious services, community singing apparently has stimulated interest to such an extent that church attendance has increased.

One of the most unexpected results and benefits accruing to the city from developments of the singing idea has been the disappearance of many factional squabbles, present in every community.

"Men and women rub elbows in this common interest so often that it takes their minds from many problems, which, in time gone by, have led them into extended differences of opinion," Moody says.

"The value of community singing of the old-fashioned huskiness sort has been proved in the mental and physical well-being of its devotees, as well as in the general uplift of the great numbers of people who come only occasionally under its spell."

"As Walt Whitman said, 'I see America go singing to her destiny.'"

GROGER SHOT

NEWARK, O., Feb. 4.—Homer Robinson, grocer, is in City Hospital with a bullet wound in his right breast for following too closely the command of an unmasked bandit who entered his store Thursday night as Robinson was checking the days receipts. After surrendering $600 from his cash drawer, Robinson reached for his hip where he carried a blizzard. The robber fired on Robinson and fled.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES

ARRANGE SURPRISE SUNDAY
A most pleasant surprise was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Oliver in Washington C. H. Sunday, when several relatives and friends gathered to remind Mr. Oliver of his birthday.

A delicious dinner was served cafeteria style and the afternoon enjoyably spent with an impromptu program. Those enjoying the day included: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rummels and daughter, Wandar; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Thornburg and son, Marvin; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Louderman and children, Martha and John; Mr. and Mrs. James Bush, Dr. and Mrs. Eliza Sanderson and son, Scott; Mrs. N. D. Powless, Mrs. Mary Combs, Mrs. G. H. Loyd, Mrs. Carrie Walter, the Misses Eva Lauderman and Marley James.

REFORMED SOCIETY

MEETS AT FISHER HOME

The Berean Bible Class, First Reformed Church, was entertained by Mrs. Clarence Fisher, at her home on N. King St., Thursday evening. There were thirty-two members and guests present.

The devotions were in charge of Mrs. Clarence Fisher. Members responded to roll call with a character from the Bible. After the business of the class had been transacted there were several musical numbers and readings given.

During the social hour, which followed, a delicious refreshment course was served by the hostess and her assistants. Mrs. Russell Ferris, Mrs. Leonard Covault and Mrs. Robert McIntire.

CEDRINE SOCIETY IS

ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

Mrs. Anna Boyd and Mrs. Cameron Bickett were hostesses to sixteen members of the Cedrine Club at the former's home on W. Market St., Thursday afternoon.

The club, only recently organized, is composed of former residents of Cedarville.

Members answered the roll call by supplying all manner of helpful hints. An entertaining paper on pioneer days in Cedarville Twp. was also read by Mrs. Janet Ervin. Two visitors were in attendance at the meeting.

DISTRICT PRESIDENT

TO ATTEND CHURCH MEET.

Members of the Second Auxiliary, of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, First M. E. Church, will hold a covered dish supper at the church, Monday evening Feb. 7, at 6 o'clock. Members are requested to bring their own china and silver.

Mrs. Charles B. Lackey, near Yellow Springs, who underwent a serious operation at McClellan Hospital, recently, is recovering nicely.

Miss Helen Hurley entertained a group of young women at her home on Hill St., for cards, Tuesday evening. Two tables were in play. Miss Doris Whittington and Miss Ruth Charters were score keepers. A dainty refreshment course was served by Miss Hurley.

Miss Lucile Meahl has taken a position in the offices of the Hoover and Allison Co., taking the place vacated by Mrs. A. F. Rudd, now of Dayton.

Mr. Ben Shadley, who has been confined to his bed for several days suffering from a fall sustained several weeks ago, is slowly improving.

Improvement is noted in the condition of little Roberta Shaw, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shaw, who was badly scalded recently when she was pushed into a pot of hot water by her small brother, Junior.

Miss Dorothy Weller, Spring Valley, employed as a stenographer, at the N. C. R., Dayton, O., has been confined to her home for the past week with an attack of grip.

HELP KIDNEYS BY DRINKING MORE WATER

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS AND HELP NEUTRALIZE IRRITATING ACIDS.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation.

Mr. W. H. Howell, assistant manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store, E. Main St., was called to Benton, Ill., Thursday night by the death of his mother, Mrs. J. B. Howell, who passed away at her home Thursday morning after an extended illness.

A daughter, weighing eight and one-half pounds, was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Wisecup, S. Galloway St., Friday morning. The child has been named Edith Jane.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hyman, E. Market St., spent Thursday in Cincinnati, where they visited Mr. Hyman's brother, Mr. Myer Hyman, of Winesville, who is in the Jewish Hospital, with an infected foot.

Missionary Society, First Reformed Church, will meet at the home of Mrs. Ernest Schmidt, Tuesday, February 8, at 2 o'clock.

Miss Miriam Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Jones, Trebleins, who is a student at Heidelberg University, Tiffin, O., returned to school Thursday. Miss Jones was recently elected president of the Deneaim Sorority of the university.

Mrs. Charles Gowdy, W. Church St., has returned home after spending six weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Hoffman, Leipsic, O.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bradstreet moved this week from their home on W. Church St., to the John Huston farm on the New Jasper Pike.

Greene County W. C. T. U. executives will hold an important meeting at the First Baptist Church at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. Plans will be laid for the state convention of the Young Peoples' Branch of the W. C. T. U. to be held in Xenia in June.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Peterson, Frankfort, O., are expected to arrive in Xenia Friday night to spend the week-end with Mrs. Peterson's father and mother, Judge and Mrs. S. C. Wright, and also attend the home-coming celebration at Cedarville College Saturday night when the dedication of the new Alford Memorial gymnasium will take place.

Mrs. J. A. Finney is expected to be removed to her home Saturday after being confined in McClellan Hospital for the last two or three weeks.

Mrs. Grady, W. Main St., is recovering swiftly from a fractured limb.

Mr. Tobin, of the Towler Road, who recently injured his spine in a fall, is still confined to his bed although there is a noticeable improvement in his condition.

Mr. Dewey Ackerman is improving after having been confined to his home for the past ten days with intestinal grip.

Mrs. E. P. Allen, S. West St., is recovering from strained ligaments in her left shoulder sustained last Tuesday.

Mrs. Ed Hunt, Dayton Ave., is confined to her home with the grip.

Considerable improvement is noted in the condition of Mr. John Jeffries, Dayton Ave., who has been confined indoors for the past month with complications.

George Spencer, former Greene County dog catcher, who suffered a paralytic stroke at his home on the Columbus Pike several weeks ago, is gradually improving and is now able to sit up in bed.

Miss Sarah Bales, who submitted to an emergency operation at McClellan Hospital last Saturday, is improving favorably.

Mr. Ed Heathers, Chestnut St., has been confined to his home for the past week or ten days by a slight illness from complications. He is improving.

Miss Lydia Hayslip, who was operated upon at McClellan Hospital last Tuesday, is rapidly recovering.

WHAT to WEAR and How to WEAR IT

By LUCY CLAIRE

Favorite Fashion Adviser of the Smart Set

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 4.—If anyone has thoughtlessly passed over the wardrobe of the tiny little miss in the family, then I warn you it cannot be done for long without causing many a headache. And is it any wonder since they sit in so frequently on talks of the mode and the moment that their own correctness has become a problem of essential importance.

While I certainly do not advocate overdressing a child, I think it is indeed wise to cultivate and foster this early interest in clothes because as they grow older this clothes consciousness can be developed into a great asset.

The youngsters down here are dressed for play and a good time but at no sacrifice of attractiveness and youthful charm.

The very young children are usually dressed entirely in white of which the little play dress in the center is a good example. Made of sheer white linen, it is trimmed with small panels of hand work and the full white bloomers are attached to a waist beneath the dress.

For a little girl of ten or twelve, dainty colors are attractive—like the simple little dress of blue dotted swiss at the left.

The frock at the right with its wide bertha collar, tucked skirt, and banding of Irish crochet lace is made of white organdie and takes its place along the afternoon promenade.

It matters not whether it is the beach, a playground—of which there are many—the hotel dining room, or club grounds, these tiny tots are always dressed in the best of taste and I know they would feel uncomfortable if they reflected any signs of neglect.

So I suggest that you start now including the younger members of your family in these seasonal discussions of dress, for it will be knowledge planted in fertile soil.

In my next article I am returning to my many friends among the men, for I have news for them from Palm Beach, too, and it is going to be about the new mode of featherweight footwear.

FARM BUREAU DRIVE OUTLINED AT WORKER DINNER CONFERENCE

Workers' Conference of the Greene County Farm Bureau, to inspire successful effort in the coming membership drive, was held Thursday night at Central High School, in Charge of W. W. Anderson, president-elect of the Farm Bureau and county campaign manager.

One hundred people attended the dinner meeting, including township chairmen, township campaign managers, township women's chairmen; township boys' and girls' chairmen and two team captains making a committee of six with their wives and husbands.

The speakers were Arthur Wead, Ohio Farm Bureau, Federation, Columbus and J. E. Lile, Greene County sponsor of the coming campaign and also a member of the board of directors of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Under the main subject, "Our Membership Campaign," talks were made by Mr. Anderson, on "Where We Are," Mr. Wead, "Where We Are Going" and Mr. Lile, on "Where We Will Land." A general discussion by the guests followed. Music was furnished by the Jefferson Twp. orchestra.

The campaign will be held during the third week in February.

AMERICAN NAVAL STRENGTH IN CHINA TO BE INCREASED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—A still further increase in American naval strength in Chinese waters is expected within a few days. This will be in addition to the 1,200 marines now on their way to join the Asiatic fleet, and the three cruisers which sailed from Balboa yesterday.

All details of the government's plans for protecting its nationals in China have not been announced, but it has been determined that the plan will be carried out to its fullest extent despite whatever protests may be received from the Canton and Peking foreign ministers or from the Chinese minister here. That this government has a tacit understanding with the British for co-operation in the matter of a military movement for the protection of foreigners is now believed certain, although the state department denies that it has been in correspondence with the London foreign office on that subject.

NEW COUNTY COP

KENNETH C. BARR

Kenneth C. Barr is Greene County's new highway motorcycle patrolman, appointed Wednesday by Sheriff Ohmer Tate. His duties will consist of educating the motoring public to safe and sane driving. Barr will have as his "beat" the entire county and will patrol the highways on a motorcycle watching for infractions on the motor code.

Creation of the department of highway patrol is thought by Sheriff Tate to be a forward step in automobile regulation in Greene County. He believes that by aiding the motorist the patrolman will increase both the pleasure and safety of driving and reduce the accident rate.

BOY CONFESSES HE MURDERED SUITOR

DETROIT, Feb. 4.—Anthony Enyedi, Jr., 16, confessed today, according to police, that in response to his mother's plea he killed George Fanchall, 43, whom his mother described as an unwelcome suitor.

Fanchall was shot with a sawed-off shotgun as he sat with his wife Tuesday night in the parlor of his home.

WILBERFORCE FUND MISUSE CHARGE SAID GROUNDLESS, TRACY

Though a report of an examination of the combined Normal and Industrial Departments of Wilberforce University, made by State Examiner E. Frank Brown and filed with State Auditor J. T. Tracy, Thursday, charges affairs in many instances were conducted in an "unbusinesslike manner," no findings for recovery were made against any officials connected with the institution, university officials point out.

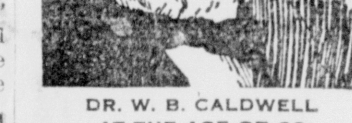

Charges of misappropriation of funds were declared groundless by Auditor Tracy in an unofficial statement Thursday, exonerating university officials from suspicion, school authorities said Friday. Tracy's report had not been filed Friday.

The board of trustees of the state-controlled departments will hold a meeting at the university next Monday. In a letter to Auditor Tracy, Dr. C. S. Johnson, Columbus, president of the board, charged there is a conspiracy to bring discredit upon Richard E. Bundy, superintendent of the institution.

In view of this letter it is believed the board meeting Monday is for the purpose of giving the superintendent a vote of confidence.

The examiner's report goes into detail in attempting to verify rumors of misappropriation of funds as brought to the attention of Sheridan Bruseaux, Chicago detective, who is said to have been retained by many Negroes throughout the state.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for forty-seven years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's ills, he constantly advised mothers to give only a harmless laxative which would help to establish natural bowel "regularity."

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin mothers have a regulating laxative which they can depend upon whenever a child is constipated, bilious, feverish or sick from a cold, indigestion or sour stomach. All children love its pleasant taste.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Ill., for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself how it cleanses and regulates the bowels of infants and children. —Adv.

to have been used for various purposes which on the surface may appear irregular, the report fails to establish that state funds were illegally used. In one instance it was found that furnishings for Supt. VOL. 1 FRIDAY FEBRUARY 4, 1927 NO. 18

Do you realize that 1927 is one-twelfth gone?

If this mud gets much worse some of us may be thrown into China's revolutions before we know it.

A man who brings up seven or eight children these days deserves a lot of credit. In fact, he can't get along without it.

Charlie Mock didn't venture out on Feb. 2nd. Must have known the sun would shine.

GET YOUR DOLLAR We saw you passing Coates Barren Shop at 9:30 a. m. Friday morning, Feb. 4th. You are about 5 ft. 10 in. in height and weigh about 140 lbs.

We claim that shaving the back of her neck isn't half as hard as hooking her up the back used to be!

O. H. Snyder believes there's heat in Miller's Creek Coal. The first evening he had some of our M. C. Coal he came home and placed a lump in the stove. It got so hot he was actually afraid to retire for fear of fire. When he learns how to use it he will save time, money and labor by using it.

They tell us this happened in one of our local churches the other Sunday. The Sunday School superintendent said, "I'm glad to see so many bright and shining faces here this morning." And every lady in the audience grabbed for her powder puff!

Wylie McCoy is trying our Miller's Creek coal also.

BIBLE THOUGHT

MERCY ASSURED.—He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy. Proverbs 28 : 13.

TAKES TIME TO GET STARTED

Gray haired men deep in the rut of office routine can take comfort. Maybe they have hidden genius. Many of the most notable characters of history did not get into their stride until they were past middle age, according to Glen B. Winship, New York novelist.

"Theory that this is a young man's world is an exploded myth," declared Mr. Winship. "Some of the world's geniuses performed their greatest feats long after the age scientists say men should be chloroformed. Benjamin Franklin, credited with discovering electricity, did not begin the study of philosophy until he was 50. Tenyson composed 'Crossing the Bar' at 83, while John Wesley at the age of 88 was still at the helm of Methodism. Cato took up the study of Greek at 80. Titian painted 'The Battle of Lepanto' at 92."

"This fact holds good today. Survey of a group of 7,000 eminent men in America disclosed that only 16 per cent were really successful under the age of 40. At the age of 35 Henry Ford was working for $35 a week. John H. Patterson, founder of the National Cash Register Company, at 38 was proprietor of a bankrupt country store. At 22, Thomas Edison was a roving telegraph operator, out of work part of the time. George Eastman was earning $1,400 a year as a bank clerk at the age of 25.

"While there are many instances of unusual achievement among young men, the progress of real genius is usually slow. Qualities that make for eminence frequently take years to develop to maturity, during which their possessor may seem like a very ordinary person."

WHY CROOKS FLEE

New York's crime wave, which six months ago had reached the highest point in history, now is ebbing toward a point below any of modern times, it is found by Howard McEldan in a survey of criminal activities in the Review of Reviews.

Crediting the drastic Baumes laws with 50 per cent of the decrease, the investigator declares that nothing less than a panic has sent hordes of metropolitan underworld denizens scurrying to the New Jersey cities, to Chicago, and other centers to escape the new state statutes which make a "life sentence" actually a sentence for life.

The laws, which forbid that a felon with a previous conviction to his record be given bail, which provides life imprisonment for a fourth conviction of felony, which remove the power of reducing life sentences from the state parole board and include many other drastic measures, have established a record in reducing crime, he finds.

So now a lot of New York criminals probably are headed for states where a lax parole and pardon system opens prison doors to convicts after they have served a few months of their sentence.

IF ADVERTISING SHOULD CEASE

William Allen White, the Kansas editor, recently told the New York Advertising club that if advertising should cease, "the slow decay and ultimate collapse of the entire world would follow."

Strong words, but White means what he says. Advertising is so closely linked with the things that we buy as to become a very integral part of our commerce and culture, as well as a source of information and advice.

Advertising is the greatest help a sound product could have. At the same time the faulty product falls by the same medium.

With competition, of course there are bound to be evils—the evils of untruth and exaggerations. But these are after all, evils of the system and not advertising. The system itself is the source of the advertising, and advertising helps the system to flourish.

Cor petition destroys the undesirable and advertising helps in that process, speeding up the elimination of what is unfit.

CANTONESE HOPE TO FORESTALL BRITISH IN CITY CAPTURE

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Reports from the Chinese fighting zone indicated that the Cantonese forces may try to forestall the purpose of Britain in sending large numbers of military forces to Shanghai by making a supreme effort to capture the international city from the Sun Chang-fang forces before the British troops enroute can arrive, according to dispatches from Shanghai.

Although it was reported that Great Britain has sent new instructions to Charge O'Malley, it was repeatedly denied that these instructions in the nature of concessions. In the semi-official circles it was stated that the instructions were to the effect that if Eugene Chen could give definite assurances as to the future safety of British in Shanghai the British might consider a diversion of some of the troops now en route to China.

TRY A CIRCUS?

DAYTON, O., Feb. 4.—Tom Sabrey, hotel manager, is hunting for a bed seven feet long to accommodate Prince William of Sweden, who will visit Dayton Feb. 23. Sabrey has invited tall traveling men to offer suggestions for bedding down the royal guest, who stands six feet four in his stocking feet.

Keeping HEALTHY by Dr. A. F. Currier

MOVABLE, OR FLOATING KIDNEY

Mrs. S. McE. requests an article on floating kidney. She says, "I was told it would return to its place if I got stouter and wore an abdominal belt. Have suffered severely of late, particularly in connection with an attack of grippe. I desire to avoid an operation if possible, as I have a weak heart and barely pulled through another kind of operation. Is there danger that floating kidney may lead to something serious like Bright's disease?"

DR. CURRIER

Could the condition be due to strain or injury? Would exercise be beneficial? And what would happen if it got twisted?

The kidney, you know, is embedded in a thick layer of fat which is a very yielding tissue and varies in quantity from time to time. If this envelope becomes thin and weak, or is subjected to strains, the kidney may become loose and mobile and the envelope stretched, so that the organ will wander more and more from its proper site. It may move very little, or it may move as far down as the pelvis, but almost invariably remains extra-abdominal, away from the abdominal organs.

This is called movable kidney, in distinction from floating kidney which is within the abdominal cavity at birth and swings upon its pedicle of peritoneum like a polyp upon its stalk. The latter is a rare condition and need not receive further consideration at this time.

Movable kidney is much more common in women than in men, more often on the right side than on the left.

As it is produced and accentuated by strains and injuries, it often follows the severe efforts of childbirth, prolonged constipation, sudden and violent muscular effort, or injuries in the region of the loins. It may be free from symptoms, many people being unaware that they have it until their attention is called to it in the course of a physical examination; or it may produce discomfort or pain severe in character or dull, aching and dragging and intensified by exertion.

If the kidney is very loose and movable, it may possibly be twisted on its axis, which would be a serious matter for its pedicle containing the ureter, renal artery and renal vein, would be greatly compressed, great pain or colic would ensue, its blood circulation would be interrupted, the urine could not pass down to the bladder and the result might be a fatal one. Fortunately this accident is not of common occurrence. In addition to pain this condition is often associated with constipation, indigestion, dizziness, palpitation and more or less intense nervousness. It is not a particularly difficult condition to determine, especially if one is accustomed to the inter-rogation of the organs of the body. In the majority of cases the symptoms may be relieved by a well-fitting abdominal belt; but if this does not give relief, an operation may be required.

It used to be the fashion to operate upon every case that came along, but since it was shown by Treves, the distinguished English surgeon who has done more than anybody else to inform us in regard to displacements of the kidney, that operation was seldom necessary or desirable, the craze for operating has subsided.

Operations are sometimes very desirable, but one should know when, as well as how, to do them.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

MRS. P.: Would you suggest a diet list for high blood pressure and also something that would help rheumatism in my left hip joint. Have been taking soda baths and other remedies, but have failed to get relief.

Answer.—Am sorry I cannot give detailed list, but that must be prepared by the physician who knows just what your peculiarities are. In general, however, may I say, avoid acids, eat meat only moderately and eat once daily, eat cereals freely, drink milk and keep the bowels freely open with Epsom or Rochelle salts. Heat is the best thing that can be used for rheumatism and an electric pad an excellent way of applying it. Sometimes blistering is effectual and for medicines the salicylate of soda combined with the compound syrup of sarsaparilla is as good as anything I know of.

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The capture of European stages and opera houses by American plays and players is becoming more and more complete. At a time when hatred of Yankees is supposed to be at its height, there are more American entertainers starring in London, Paris and other capitals than ever before.

Three United States beauties who have won particular note of late are a girl who calls herself "Nadja," and Ruth Thompson of Omaha, Neb., and Dora Duby of New York. "Nadja" and Miss Duby are dancers. Both have won attention in Paris, and the latter also has attracted play-goers in Berlin and Vienna.

"Nadja" conceals a commonplace name bestowed upon the New York girl about twenty summers ago. However, her dances are not American being far removed from the "Charleston" and "Black Bottom" in tone. Her repertoire consists principally of Oriental numbers.

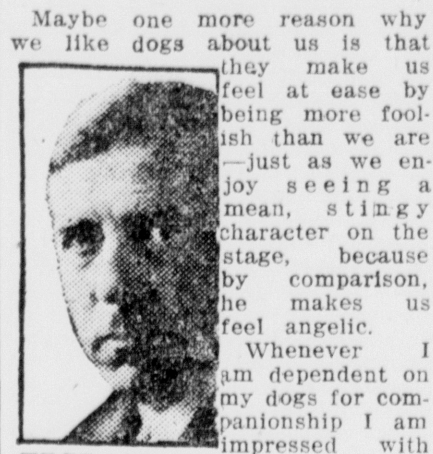

Dora Duby has been starring over here for several seasons, but has only recently achieved wide popularity.

The debut of Ruth Thompson in opera was one of the sensations of the season. She is only one of a number of Americans to come over here in the last three years and make good in leading roles. Another American girl who is shining brightly in the opera heaven is Madeline Kellie.

European opera houses are particularly receptive to Americans, inasmuch as American opera companies have drained off most of the notable French, Italian, Spanish and German talent. And as is well known, American opera houses are particularly anxious to give full opportunity to home talent. The success of Talley, Tibbets and others probably will change this, but for the present Europe seems to offer the best opportunities to Yankee singers, and the Americans are taking

KELLYGRAMS by FRED C. KELLY

IS YOUR DOG LIKE YOU?

FRED KELLY

Maybe one more reason why we like dogs about us is that they make us feel at ease by being more foolish than we are—just as we enjoy seeing a mean, stingy character on the stage, because by comparison, we feel angelic.

Whenever I am dependent on my dogs for companionship I am impressed with the number and variety of traits I have in common with them. We often laugh over antics of a favorite dog and declare that he is almost human. But I wonder if a dog is ever as much like us as we humans are like dogs. Isn't it because we still revert to natural passions that dogs and ourselves sometimes seem so much alike?

We have many of the same fundamental animal impulses. Dogs show anger, jealousy, or greed, with complete frankness, while we, in our supposed greater intelligence, pretend to hold ourselves in check. We ourselves ought to behave better than dogs, but do we?

The dog in the manger was probably never more human than when he insisted on keeping other dogs from using what he himself did not want. How often we all do that very thing! Even marriages have resulted from the desire to keep a supposed prize from another. After my sweet-natured Ariadine, Jimmy, has exhausted the possibilities of a soup-bone he is deeply distressed to see the bone exciting the interest of a visiting brother. Jimmy is scarcely able to eat if other dogs are fed near by, so busy is he casting covetous glances at their plates.

He is more interested in their food than in his own and is unhappy so long as another dog has a morsel left.

Here perhaps is the animal origin of the human disposition not to be content with what we have, even when it is enough, but to worry about what the neighbors are doing. Old Bagger has a philosophy slightly different from Jimmy's. He eats contentedly enough and minds his own business.

Many Minds SIGNIFICANT SAYINGS OF THE DAY

"I do not know whether or not the soul lives after death, but in the light of philosophy and science the survival of the soul is not only possible, but probable. Life is not a machine. Some spiritual force directs it. I believe the soul acts into space, goes beyond the body, because it is not composed of matter. It cannot sit on a little chair in the body or force through the body like an electrical current. The mind is something for itself. Some conscious force, which many prefer to call the soul, directs the actions, while the subconscious regulates the physical."

—Dr. Hans Driesch, noted professor of philosophy in Leipzig (Germany) university, now in United States.

"You American people think so much faster and move so much faster than we do in Vienna. You go through life to the rhythm of a fox trot. We go through to the swing of a Strauss waltz."—Archduke Leopold, of Austria, now in New York.

"Men have better shaped heads than women. Ninety-nine women out of 100 have straight backs to their heads—German backs. And their faces are too big for the size of their heads, too. That's why their hair is so important. The Greek knot at the back balances the face. The width of hair at the side makes it seem smaller and daintier. Hair pulled down, on the forehead has the same effect. Cut off her hair or take it away from her face and the average moderately good-looking woman is a sight."—Sir William Orpen, world-famous British portrait painter.

"It just happened I have lived a happy life and am fortunate in having made many friends. I love life and I have no sure-cure formulas."—Dr. W. W. Keen, Philadelphia, world-famous brain surgeon, on his nineteenth birthday.

"After six years' experience of it, in which to arrive at a mature judgment, my conclusion is that women ought never to have cut their hair. Their heads are too badly shaped and their faces are too large. When I have to paint a crop my soul revolts. No shingled beauty could hope to be a successful modern Circe or Helen of Troy. It can't last. The modern shingled woman will never inspire a type if art comparable to the ancient Greek type, for instance."—Sir William Orpen, noted British portrait painter.

"All the senators in the senate that I have seen decline a drink since I've been here could be put in less cubic space than that of a taxicab."—U. S. Senator William Cabell Bruce, Dem., Maryland.

"The United States would now be at war with Mexico and Nicaragua if it were not for the powerful influence upon our people of the League of Nations and the idea behind it."—John H. Clarke, former justice of the United States supreme court.

ness so long as there is food on his own plate. But being a rapid eater, he is usually through ahead of other dogs. The instant his own supply is exhausted, he begins to growl, obviously irritated because others still have food when he has not. Aren't many of us secretly a little like that? But we are less frank about it.

Little Old New York

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

Exclusive Dispatch, Copyright 1927 NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Arthur L. Lee, managing director of the Hotel McAlpin and treasurer of the New York City Hotel Men's association, "views with alarm" the Big Town's building activities which, he declares, have reached the "saturation point."

And the Worthy Brother trots out a long list of figures and a chart of ink mountain peaks and valleys to demonstrate his contention that hotels in the city, now under construction or planned, will add 30,000 additional rooms to the thousands now empty in newer hotels.

"Financial houses," he adds, "should take immediate steps to curb the program of hotel construction under way."

New York is building on a scale commensurate with its prosperity; and it will become Brother Arthur and his confreres of the N. Y. C. Hotel Men's association to crab Father Knickerbocker's logical expansion, by advancing the bogey of "saturation."

New York has an approximate 24-hour "floating" population of half a million and with a crowd like that to draw upon, whose fault is it that thousands of hotel rooms daily remain idle?

Isn't that we have too many hotels. The trouble is there aren't sufficient real, live, honest-to-goodness hotel managing directors on the range.

Most of our large hotels center attention on the lower floors, where the orchestras, potteries, palms, and gaily bedizened attendants abound, at the expense of the middle-rooms where are perched the lads who pay the freight.

These hotels are cumbered with complex and intricate bookkeeping systems and with numerous shifts of employees whose sole solicitude is for their own pockets.

The managing directors of hotels of this character would be astounded if they knew the wheels within wheels in their cumbersome organizations—if they knew of the petty graft and the numerous instances where patrons are alienated by disservice and neglect.

Very seldom does even the least hint of real conditions find its way to their attention. Complaints never get very far beyond coadjutors in Court of Appeals coats, and the sporting Frank E. Campbell funeral-looking white carnations in their lapels.

When bigger and better hotels come into existence, men like Arthur L. Lee will be forced to abandon their stained-glass seclusion of their inner offices and follow the example Jimmy Regan set in the old Knickerbocker.

You weren't five minutes in the Knickerbocker before you came face to face with Jim who was here, there and everywhere. He would suddenly pop up before the room clerk, call for the key of an unoccupied room, board the elevator and unheralded make personal inspection. If he found the least thing amiss—a broken electric light bulb, a patched sheet on the bed, the person responsible was fired, then and there.

His employees didn't love him; but Jim figured he could do without their love so long as they gave him the equivalent in honest toil of the money he paid them each week.

"An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man," says Emerson. In the hotel business, when efficiency reigns in the managing director's office it is reflected in the province of the humblest servitor.

Mr. Lee would benefit his city, his employers and his guests if, instead of whining about "empty rooms" and the "saturation point" in hotel buildings, he would intelligently correct the condition that dims his weeping eye.

Let him and his brother hotel men set about reducing the cost of operation. That would automatically abolish cut-throat competition and the stranger within our gates who affixes his John Hancock to a hotel register would begin to get something resembling a square deal.

There's no reason why, with adequate co-operation, the hotels in New York shouldn't operate on an average daily capacity approximating ninety per cent.

Running a half empty house a majority of the time and turning patrons away in the rush season is sorry business.

The remedy is to be found in the lobby, not in the ledger. For in the hotel game, the ledger but reflects the lobby.

That's why it's a mistake to put an "efficiency man" in supreme command. It requires vision to run a successful hotel and the "efficiency man" cannot see past all-looking white carnations in the bookkeeper's cage.

SONGS of a HOUSEWIFE by Marjorie K. Rawlings

PLANT ORPHANS

I've saved plant orphans, left to die. I've prowled in every garden bed And rescued plump and lively ferns. Geraniums most fat and red.

I dug up some begonias, A fuchsia with its purple bell, A maidenhair, a Wandering Jew, Some parsley, with its fresh green smell.

I potted them and brought them in, And set them on a sunny shelf, Warm, safe and cozy in the house, Where I can bring them up myself.

And if the foundlings do not thrive, Nor like my care, by any chance, I'll turn them out again, and blame The base ingratitude of plants!

GIRLIETTES

"SHE DOESN'T KNOW HIS INTENTIONS—HE KEEPS HER IN THE DARK SO MUCH"

Eight games, three at home and five on foreign gridders, appear on Central High School's 1925 football schedule, as tentatively announced Friday by John C. Hallantyne, high school athletic manager.

One date, November 5, remains open and it is probable another contest will be scheduled to round out the customary nine-game chart.

The grid season will open September 30 with Washington C. H. High School appearing here and ends Thanksgiving Day in the traditional football argument with Springfield at Springfield.

The feature of the schedule is the appearance in Xenia, October 23 of Withrow High of Cincinnati. The Tigers defeated Central by one touchdown on a slippery field at Cincinnati last season.

Schedule follows:

Sept. 30—Washington C. H. here.

Oct. 7—Greenview here.

Oct. 15—Piqua away.

Oct. 21—Urbana away.

Oct. 28—Withrow (Cincinnati) here.

Nov. 5—Open.

Nov. 12—Troy away.

Nov. 18—Wilmington away.

Thanksgiving Day—Springfield away.

The student body and faculty of East High School met in assembly at 10:15, Thursday morning, at which time Miss Lillian Q. Brown of Wilberforce, made a vigorous and stirring address.

Miss Brown is one of the leading women of the Negro race, having won fame both here and abroad as an elocutionist of no mean ability. For years a teacher of English at Wilberforce University, Miss Brown, in addition to her academic duties, found time to give her interest to her race and today is an ardent advocate and supporter of Negro rights. Noted and famous elocutionist, lecturer, traveler, authoress and leader of colored women, the student body of East High School felt greatly honored by the presence of Miss Brown.

The address was based upon the achievements of colored women, so little of which is known to the general public. Citing, in her inimitable way, instances of bravery, sacrifices and other sterling qualities, Miss Brown held her audience enthralled. Urging the students to make full use of their many opportunities, Miss Brown concluded with a selection from Paul Lawrence Dunbar, "Jump Back, Honey, Jump Back," rendered in Negro dialect.

Miss Brown is an authoress of long standing, her latest contribution to the field of literature being "Homespun Heroines and other Women of Distinction," an authentic record of the noble women of the Negro race.

The colored people of Xenia and vicinity are asked to purchase a copy of this book, as it will prove a valuable source of information as to the activities and achievements of colored women.

Because of illness, Principal Taylor was unable to be present and was represented by Mr. H. O. Mason, who introduced Miss Brown and conducted the program.

It is announced that Rev. Young will hold preaching services at the M. E. Church on Thursday evening of each week.

Appeal of a decision in Probate Court dismissing an application filed by James E. Watt to compel Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy, as executor of the estate of Elizabeth M. Lytle, deceased, to file a final account in the estate, was heard in Common Pleas Court Wednesday.

The case was taken under advisement of Judge E. P. Middleton, Urbana, Champaign County Common Pleas judge, who presided on the bench.

Watt filed the application in Probate Court October 14, 1925 alleging Judge Gowdy has been collecting and disbursing assets of the estate without authority or without an accounting being made since 1924.

Decedent left an estate worth $29,000 to be administered. Watt charged that a paper filed by the executor purporting to be a final account was in reality not a final account.

The application was dismissed by Judge Wright at the close of the hearing, motion for a new trial overruled and an appeal filed in Common Pleas Court in December.

Scene of the legal battle being waged for custody of Mabel Harness, 14, as a result of a Reno, Nev. divorce granted the child's father, Volney P. Harness, 317 Clarence St., Dayton, former Xenian, from Lucy Harness, Xenia, August 20, 1925, was transferred to the Montgomery County Court of Domestic Relations Thursday.

The Reno divorce decree did not specify whether the mother or father should have possession of the child.

The battle was begun several weeks ago when the father brought action for a writ of habeas corpus to gain control of the girl, who, he alleged, had been taken forcibly from Patterson School in Dayton by her mother January 17, 1927. For several months the girl had been living with her father and stepmother, Harness having re-married.

The mother filed suit for custody of the girl in the Greene County Common Pleas Court January 11, 1927 and the case is still pending.

Prior to court action police intervention terminated a street quarrel in the city between the mother and father over the child's custody.

Scene of the legal battle being waged for custody of Mabel Harness, 14, as a result of a Reno, Nev. divorce granted the child's father, Volney P. Harness, 317 Clarence St., Dayton, former Xenian, from Lucy Harness, Xenia, August 20, 1925, was transferred to the Montgomery County Court of Domestic Relations Thursday.

The Reno divorce decree did not specify whether the mother or father should have possession of the child.

The battle was begun several weeks ago when the father brought action for a writ of habeas corpus to gain control of the girl, who, he alleged, had been taken forcibly from Patterson School in Dayton by her mother January 17, 1927. For several months the girl had been living with her father and stepmother, Harness having re-married.

The mother filed suit for custody of the girl in the Greene County Common Pleas Court January 11, 1927 and the case is still pending.

Thousands Have
Hepatic Torpidity
And Don't Know It
If You Fear An Operation Because of Gall Bladder Trouble or Gall Stones, Watch These Signs.

Perhaps you don't know whether you have this trouble or not, but if you are bothered with dizzy spells, headaches, shortness of breath, gas in stomach and bowels, pressure or sharp pains in right side that often shoot through to the back, coated tongue, bad breath, lack of ambition, weakness, nervousness and nights of restless misery—you probably are a victim of this health destroying malady that fills your system with poison and may mean a dangerous surgical operation unless checked at once!

Folk's near or past middle life are especially liable to hepatic torpidity, gall bladder trouble or gall stones—and in the opinion of the writer one of the best things in the world for conditions of this kind is the regular home use of "Klax-Ko" tablets which Sayre's Drug Store and other good druggists supply on a binding guarantee to refund their small cost if genuinely beneficial results are not obtained. Inside of a week, Klax-Ko tablets have brought new life and health to hundreds, and they must positively do the same for you or their use will not cost you a penny. Try them today.—Adv.

Children's Night Coughs
STOPPED ALMOST INSTANTLY
Children very frequently have spells of night coughing due to bronchial irritations or while suffering from colds. These coughing spells, if not quickly checked, are very injurious to the child's health, to say nothing of the annoyance to others.

A famous physician's prescription called Thoxine much better than patent medicines and cough syrups acts on a different principle, relieves the irritation and stops the cough in a few minutes. In fact it is guaranteed to stop in fifteen minutes or money back. Contains no chloroform, dope or other harmful drugs, pleasant taste and safe. 35c., 60c., and $1.00. At all druggists.—Adv.

PRICE OF NOVEMBER ELECTION FIGURED

Earl Short, clerk of the Board of Elections, has figured that it cost the county roughly speaking, forty-seven cents for every vote cast at the last general election in November.

He has figured that the August primary cost the county $3,313.02 while the expense of the general election is placed at $3,808.90.

Estimating that approximately 5,000 votes were cast at the November election, the cost per vote would be about forty-seven cents.

These figures were compiled by Mr. Short at the request of the secretary of state, who expects to make use of them in a statistical way.

BRINGING UP FATHER

POOR JUDGE BLOT IS LAID UP
IN THE HOSPITAL WHICH MAKES IT A CERTAINITY THE PRESIDENT WILL NOW MAKE ME THE TRAVELING
AMBASSADOR!

IS McGAFFNEY AROUND?
HE'S GOT TEN DOLLARS
OF MINE—I WANTED HIM
TO DO A LITTLE JOB
FOR ME BUT I DON'T NEED IT NOW!

I HEARD
ABOUT IT
FROM JOE.
JOE'S IN THE BACK ROOM!

WELL, WHERE IS McGAFFNEY?

DON'T WORRY, HE TOLD ME THAT JUDGE BLOT
WAS IN THE HOSPITAL.
BUT HE'D HIT HIM WITH A BRICK THE MINUTE HE GOT OUT, SO McGAFFNEY IS WAITIN' AROUND THE HOSPITAL!

SUFFERIN' CATS! THAT GUYS McGAFFNEY IS BOUND TO CARRY
OUT THAT JOB!

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Just AMONG US GIRLS

by Kathryn Kenney

"WELL-KNOWN PEOPLE"

Some people are born famous and, to turn to ancient history, others appear at parties in bathtubs.

The sort of fame that takes years to acquire may make you well-known after death, but for jumping into prominence overnight there's nothing like breaking down and telling the reporters all about it.

It doesn't take any more than a cinder to get into the public eye! Playing an instrument is one way to become well-known, although not welcome overnight.

Appearing at parties in bathtubs is, as I said before, another manner of breaking into print with soft soap.

You don't have to do anything worth while, just rub your fur coat or your wife the wrong way.

You can't afford adopting anyone, why not kill your husband?

There are just as good fish in the sea as ever were slaughtered. It will probably get you a movie contract and you'll have something named after you, if it's only a swear word.

Fame may be fleeting but it certainly leaves a cloud of dirt. If you are the first to do anything you'll never hear the last of it.

If you can't "get across" any other way, wave a flag or flag your mother.

You have to be different from other people, even if it's only dumber! Fame is a matter of bigger checks in your suits or in your suit pockets.

The thing to do is to hit the public in the eye and let them put the beefsteak on themselves.

BE SUCCESSFUL OVER NIGHT

In America where people come up from nothing, and often end at the same place, many a chorus girl has become a star by getting herself talked about. A head-line in the papers is worth any number in the palm. A girl's best bet, unless she wants to be adopted, is to marry some wealthy man, even if all she gets is alimony.

Once you are married to a wealthy man it's funny how the others fall. It takes a mink coat to catch a mink coat!

There is nothing which makes money like a name, and the easiest place to swim the English channel is in the movies.

If you don't want to play a saxophone, or be a human fly, and it seems as though nowadays that it's harder to keep obscure than famous. But the funny part is that if you're obscure enough, you're famous anyway!

Hard work used to put you in the hall of fame; now it doesn't get you to the door step! The hall of fame is a one night stand, and its guests come and go.

People who do something different and get their pictures in the papers get movie contracts and a chance to approve of breakfast food.

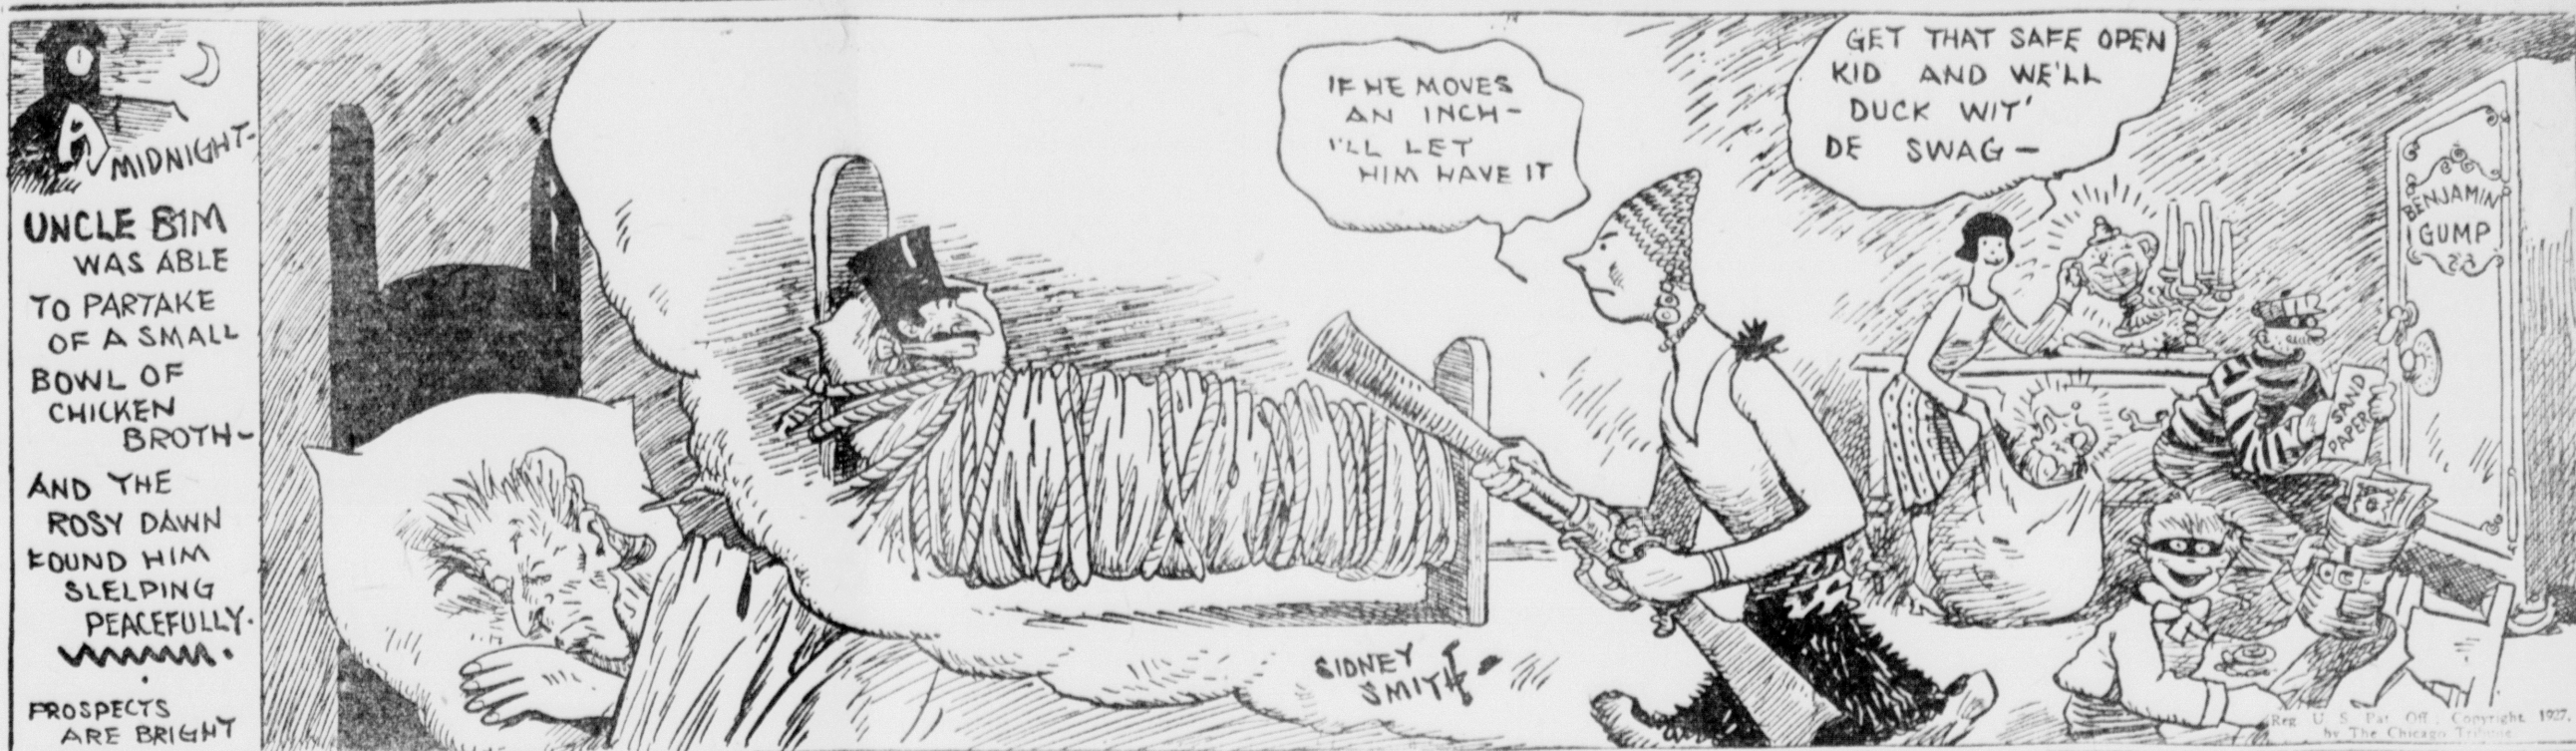

They may not get in "who's who," but they certainly know what's what! Most fame is so short that you have to stoop down to put it on the head and then it's gone!
